WOMEN'S OUTREACH WORKER

Nelson Community Services (NCS) is seeking a qualified candidate to fill the full-time, permanent position of Women's Outreach Worker. This position provides support to self-identified women who have experienced, or are at-risk of, violence, abuse, or threats, and their dependent children, with a particular priority given to women leaving the Aimee Beaulieu Transition House Program. Program services are delivered within a feminist framework and place priority on the safety of women. Services are delivered in Nelson and surrounding area.

For a full listing of job duties and responsibilities, see the full job posting on our website at <https://www.servicesfyi.ca>.

Qualifications and Skills:

- Two-year diploma in Human Services or related field, plus a minimum of two years' recent related experience, or the equivalent combination of education, training, and experience
- proven skills/experience working within a feminist practice framework with self-identified women who have experienced violence, abuse, or threats
- strong working knowledge of community resources in Nelson and area
- must be willing to work flexible hours
- have access to a reliable vehicle

This permanent 35 hour/week position will begin on or about June 12, 2019. The position requires membership with BCGEU. The wage is consistent with JJEP Wage Grid Level 12 [$22.02 – 25.65] of the Collective Agreement.

NCS is committed to equality in employment, however, due to the sensitive nature of the work involved in this program, NCS has made a bonafide gender requirement and, as such, applications will be accepted from qualified females only.
